

RERTR 2011 — 33RD INTERNATIONAL MEETING ON REDUCED ENRICHMENT FOR RESEARCH AND TEST REACTORS

Santiago Marriott Hotel Santiago, Chile October 23-27, 2011

The U.S. Department of Energy / National Nuclear Security Administration's Office of Global Threat Reduction in cooperation with the International Atomic Energy Agency will host the "RERTR 2011 International Meeting on Reduced Enrichment for Research and Test Reactors." The meeting is being organized by Argonne National Laboratory, Chilean Nuclear Energy Commission (CCHEN) and Idaho

National Laboratory and will be held in Santiago, Chile from October 23-27, 2011. This will be the 33 annual meeting in a series on the same general subject regarding conversion of reactors within the Global Threat Reduction Initiative.

Information will be exchanged on the progress of national and international programs to develop lowenriched uranium (LEU) fuels and targets for research and test reactors and to convert research reactors and radioisotope production processes to the use of such fuels and targets. The meeting technical subjects will include development of new LEU fuels, design and safety analyses for reactor conversions, transportation and storage of spent fuels, and HEU minimization for Global Threat Reduction. Technical and policy experts interested in attending the meeting must register on-line at www.rertr.anl.gov prior to the registration deadline on September 1, 2011. The RERTR web site will be open for registration soon and contain a registration form for the Santiago Marriott Hotel along with other information and links to facilitate attendance and participation in the meeting.

Participants having interest in any of the LEU conversion topics listed above are encouraged to present a paper at the meeting. Please indicate your intention to submit a paper by completing the Abstract Submittal form found at the RERTR web site and submitting it along with an abstract of the paper no later than September 1, 2011.

IMPORTANT: The RERTR (www.rertr.anl.gov) web site will become available in a few weeks to register for the RERTR-2011 International Meeting by the September 1, 2011 deadline.
